Transport – Lift & Shift

Designed to facilitate a complete uplift of an existing on-premises iManage Work environment to the cloud, Transport-Lift & Shift ensures minimal disruption to productivity during a cloud migration. Additional RBRO migration products support other use cases for transferring data into iManage Work environments.

RBRO provides a range of options for migration services to fit the level of involvement that best serves your project.

Full Implementation

RBRO manages complete migration projects, from analysis and design through to go-live and beyond. With the credibility of over 17 years of experience, RBRO consistently delivers excellence with our technical consultancy and migration solutions.

Migration Service

RBRO brings migration expertise to your existing projects. We focus on the transfer of content itself. RBRO Migration specialists assist and advise on data analysis activities, then review and execute your migration plans. RBRO consultants seamlessly integrate into your team. Your team retains complete control over the project as a whole, including all non-migration aspects, such as change management, platform build, UAT, and Go-Live strategy.

Migration Support

RBRO's engagement package consists of mentorship and assistance with your migration project. Initially, our consultants meet with your team to provide an overview and best practice for migrations using RBRO products. RBRO then joins your team in working sessions to outline the procedures for each major step of the migration process in more in-depth detail. These steps include:

- Preparing for the initial transfer of data,
- Entering and concluding user acceptance testing (UAT) periods
- and Go Live.

Throughout these sessions, our consultants are available to answer questions and provide guidance as needed. This support is especially useful when using RBRO migration solutions for the first time.

Complete product documentation and process guides are standard with all engagements. Further support from the RBRO Migration Team is available to ensure optimum implementation.
